A YEAR TO REMEMBER

... The Hindenburg exploded in a ball of flame, killing over 30 of the crew and passengers, as she was coming in to land. Tragedy also struck the Spanish as the Civil War raged on, with many non-Spaniards taking part in the vicious fighting.

In Britain, King George VI, "the unlikely Monarch", was crowned alongside his Queen Elizabeth. Yet despite Royal celebrations, Londoners were being made aware of more sinister events - and the first gas masks were introduced.

These and so many other events were highlights of 1937. All are featured on this hour-long video which is one of a collection of ten in the thirties series and, of course, only one of forty in the entire "A Year To Remember" range. History in motion - the perfect gift - for yourself, or for someone you care about.
